

The Basketball Institute at John D. Bracco offers students, who have a passion for basketball, with high-level instruction in a supportive environment that allows them to experience growth, development and fun. The basketball Institute will mentor student-athletes to bring confidence, self-motivation and hard work to all aspects of basketball and life.

Topics will include technical coaching on footwork, ball handling, passing/catching, defending, shooting and finishing. Coaches will not only focus on developing fundamental basketball skills, but developing fundamental movement and athleticism through physical literacy, strengthening and conditioning.

Students will train three times per week in the afternoons (M, W, F) at either John D. Bracco School or at the Clareview Recreation Centre gymnasium.

Our program is suited to help the individual student reach their full potential in basketball as well as academics and life in general.
